Slender Ankles

MANY WOMEN WRITE IN and ask the slender ankles must develop slender what to do to make their ankles legs at the same time. Walking slender Certainly the recent craze and dancing will take off much of for extremely short skirts brought the superfluous flesh from a fat to view a surprising number of thick ankle, and from a large calf as well. ankles-and bowed legs as well! Swimming develops legs, and welldeveloped legs almost invariably have ankles in the correct pro-

High-heeled shoes help to give a slender silhouette to the ankle, by raising the heel of the foot and forcing to an incurve the tendons running from heel to calf. But too high heels are injurious, nothing higher than a moderate Cuban heel should ever be worn. Well-fitting silk stockings will do more than anything else to make an ankle look slim. The silk clings tightly to the ankle itself, and its very thinness makes the ankle actually measure less around than when a lisle or cotton stocking is worn. Moreover, the delicate shaded effect produced by the silk itself, gives an appearance of trimness and slenderness. It does not pay, how-ever, to buy silk stockings at less than a dollar a pair, they will not wear a quarter as long, and the weave is sleazy looking instead of Reply—Take almost all fatty foods from your diet—milk, cream, sugar, candy, potatoes, beets, fat meats, white bread, etc. Eat gluten bread or dry toast and drink black coffee. Campher is not especially good for the hair. The soap you refer to is considered very good indeed. Have a chiropodist shave your corns, and wear pada about them till they disappear. Twisting damp strands of hair on kids is the best way to curl it; leave it up on the kids overnight.
